Dear Parents/Carers,

Buckfastleigh Primary School will continue to be open on Monday 23rd March. As a school, the staff will be supporting the children of 'key workers' and vulnerable children by providing childcare at the school. We have staff who are currently fit and well, although this could change.

Following the guidelines, we shall open the school for both key workers and vulnerable children. I am awaiting information from the government as to the exact nature of what is considered to be a key worker and how families qualify for this.

Possible scope:

Children of key workers – NHS staff, social workers, delivery drivers, teaching staff, supermarket staff...

Vulnerable children - those with social care involvement or an EHCP in place or in progress.

I would expect to be able to send you this information tomorrow. This will include the contact arrangements that you will need in order to inform us that you wish to send your child to school.

For those children who are in school, it will not be like a normal school day. The children will complete the same educational tasks set for their classmates at home as well as taking part in a variety of activities during the day.

Kind regards,

Eddie Brown
